At Last the Braves Accomplish
the Impossible—They Go Ahead of the Giants.

Copyright, 1914, by The Press Publishing Co.
(The New York World).

At last they've accomplished the impossible. The Braves have gone ahead of the Giants. When Stallings's crew began their terrific uphill drive and reached the Giants' heels the experts began to predict that they never could stand such a pace, and that they'd crack. For several days after that the favorite amusement was watching the scoreboard to see the Braves begin to "crack." And they didn't crack. Not a bit of it. Seeing that they were hanging on within half a game of the leaders, the experts began predicting again.

"Why," they said, "the Braves have done wonders, of course, but it's largely a matter of luck. They'll never actually catch the Giants. You see, the Giants have the real class. The Braves have been playing great ball, but it's against all nature that they can keep it up. The Giants are quite different. They have been ahead so long they've grown a little careless. Now watch them and see how they can tighten up when the real test comes. That's where class shows. The Giants have just hit their stride again. The Braves'll never bother them from now on."

Never bother them? Well, perhaps Mr. McGraw's warriors just hung back yesterday and lost a game while the Bostonians were gathering in a double header and keeping blithely away from the lead. Perhaps the Giants are just amusing themselves a little, letting Boston feel good for a day or so, just to see their champions when the Giants begin to work in earnest. That must be it. Yes, that must be it.

All this excitement is going to come to a climax when New York goes to Boston Monday for a double header. Already our newspaper men are dropping missiles into the Massachusetts metropolis demanding unconditional surrender and trying to throw a scare into the palpitating populace. Monday the Giants will hurt their army, burn, foot, dragons and Matty, into the city by the Charles; also a little heavy artillery under direction of Sam Tereau. The result of that last day's battle will probably tell whether the Braves are going to capture the pennant.

The Stadium A. C. announces that it will hold no more Saturday night shows this year owing to the fact that the Saturday night shows haven't been paying expenses. It's a lot of fun to run a show when it pays to run it, but nobody but a regular amateur of the sport would run them for fun and pay the rent, electric bills out of his own pocket.

Whether it's the war or just natural hot weather disinclination of boxing fans to sit sweltering at a crowd of gladiators while one might as well go down where the ocean breezes blow, boxing hasn't been up to form lately.

A GOOD match may be put on by the Stadium on some Wednesday night during the next four or five weeks, after which the club will go South, while St. Nicholas' link is given over to skating again.

Al Reich and Gunboat Smith is the card. The club has made offers to each man. Smith is willing, it appears, providing the amount of money offered is commensurate with his dignity as white champion of America. Al Reich is also willing, although Al thinks he really should have a few more fights "under his belt" before tackling such a tough proposition as the Gunner.

And it does seem a shame to attack such a promising youngster as Reich up against the wily and hard-slugging mariner. Reich started with too much of a jump once before, when he tackled Carl Morris in his second professional fight. It took him a long time to regain confidence after that beating. Perhaps he'd go back as far as his first fight with Morris. But there's the chance that Reich might beat Smith. That would be something of a boost for him as white champion. Reich has everything that might make a champion except experience. He's very fast, more than ordinarily clever, vambler, very strong, and he can hit like a blacksmith.

He looks like a possible champion. He has a great advantage over all the heavyweights excepting Willard, in build, and he's better built than Willard, although not a match for him in size. However the probable result, a battle between Reich and the Gunner was a big crowd. And after a long time does a promoter want working on percentage?

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN.

Sept. 2.—With Mathewson pitching in good form the Giants got even with the Dodgers here this afternoon by capturing the first game of a double header by a score of 6 to 3. Ragon, who did the flinging for the Robinson crew, was easy for McGraw's men. After they had batted his curves for nine hits, five of which came in the fourth inning, Manager Robinson pulled Pat out of the box and substituted Schmutz. Although the Dodgers outbatted the Giants fifteen hits to eleven, Matty tightened up with men on the bases and managed to get out of many tight places.

After the teams had taken a short rest they began their second tussle with Tereau and Meyers working in the points for the Giants, while Atchison and McCarthy did the same stunt for the Dodgers. More than 16,000 fans were present when the game started. Rain began to fall at the conclusion of the first game.

BEECHER'S CONDITION

NOT SATISFACTORY TO
LOS ANGELES FANS

Rumored That He Isn't Training Properly for His Bout With Joe Rivers.

By John Pollock.

WILLIE BEECHER'S condition is not at all satisfactory to Los Angeles fans, despite all of the stuff that has been coming out of his training camp in the contrary.

Yesterday he boxed six rounds and was tired out when it was over. There are many rumors circulating around Los Angeles as to the behavior of the New York kid, and unless he takes a decided brace his fight next Monday with Joe Rivers proves fair to be another Matty McCue fiasco. Rivers is a top-heavy favorite, but there is no betting.

Porky Flynn, the Boston heavyweight, is anxious to get back in the pugilistic limelight once more and earn the right to meet all the top-notchers. He starts his campaign for his climb upward to-morrow night at Brown's Far Rockaway Club, where he meets Jim Savage, and he expects to score a knockout.

Jimmy Coffey, the Harlem lightweight, is another fighter who is going to Australia for fights. After Al Lippe saw him box Mike Masie at the Stadium A. C. he got Dan Morgan's consent to take Coffey to Australia. Coffey will sail with Lippe, Jeff Smith and Frank Loughrey when they leave for that country on Sept. 29. Coffey ought to make good there.

Moe Smith, the New York representative of the Olympia A. C. of Philadelphia, told the writer to-day that Jim Buckley, manager of Gunboat Smith, demanded a guarantee of $5,000 for Smith to fight Jess Willard a six-round bout at that club next month. Moe said the club officials refused to give Smith any such sum.

A match was arranged to-day between Jack Britton, the clever light-weight, and Johnny Loro, the game west side boxer. They will come together in a ten-round bout at the next month's boxing at the club on the night of Sept. 14. They will meet at cardweights.

Tom McCardie, who is making the matches for the Alexander A. C. of Elmford, N. Y., has arranged the star bouts for the next two shows of the club. To-morrow night Shammas will be broken off to battle Harry Condon, while on Sept. 11 Young Hickley and Young Kurts will come together in the main go. Both bouts will be for ten rounds.

Young Gradwell, the Newark lightweight, and Frankie Nelson of this city have been signed to battle in the main bout of ten rounds at the next show of the Rockaway Beach A. C., which is slated to be held on Tuesday night.

The proposed ten-round bout between Jack Williams, the bantam-weight champion, and the Bantamweight champion, Al the Backway Sporting Club of Brooklyn on Monday night has been declared off by Manager Weissman.

The next fight with Louisiana for six rounds at the Olympic A. C. of Philadelphia on Sept. 14.

Because of his great victory over Stanley Younum, the Denver fighter, whom he knocked out in the nineteenth round, Charley White, the crack Chicago lightweight, has been secured to fight Danny O'Brien of Seattle before the Colorado A. C. of Denver, Col., on Labor Day. They will box ten rounds.

Young Drummie of Jersey City, who has taken part in close to thirty fights since the beginning of the year, is at last taking a much needed rest. He is spending a few weeks with his manager, Pete Fitzgerald, at Callicoon, N. Y.

The Queensboro A. C. of Long Island City will resume its boxing shows Saturday, Sept. 12. Manager Elahery has signed William Adams and Jimmy Flynn for the main event.

Army to Yield To Navy Eleven

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from West Point says the Army-Navy football game will be waged this fall after all, and that it will be played in Philadelphia. The Army officials indicated, says the dispatch, that rather than have the match called off to the Navy's ultimatum, "Philadelphia or nowhere." The game probably will be played at Shibe Park.
